Introduction

In this guide you can find the information about our website. The guide includes the content of the website, its navigation and functionality of different pages. The guide contains pictures for better explanation and links for better understanding.

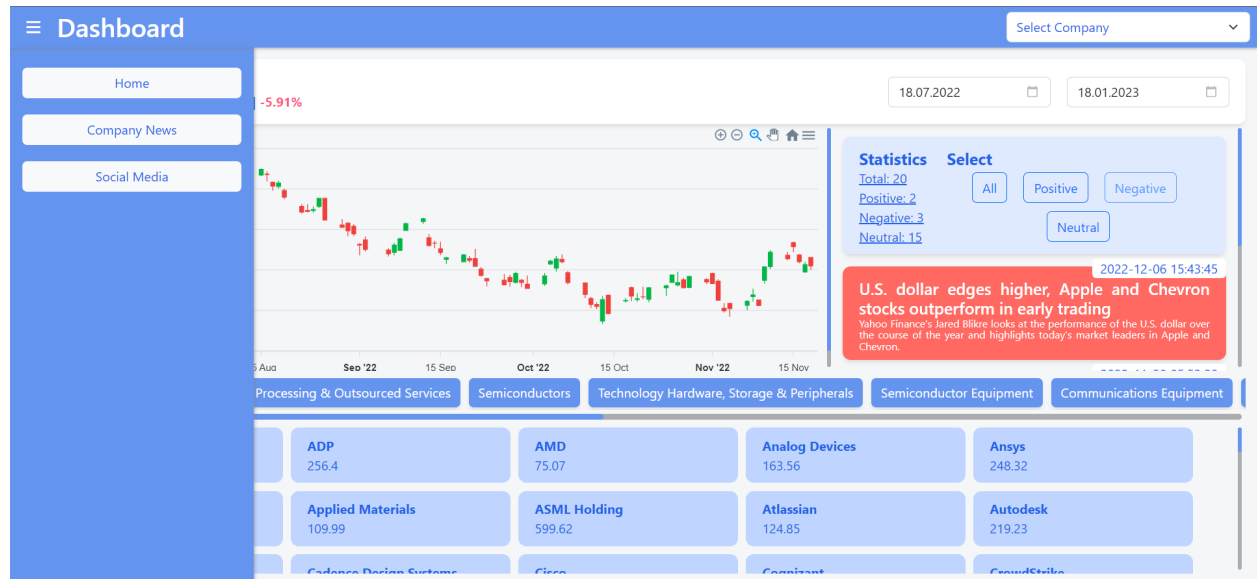

Homepage

This is the homepage of the website. Here, in the top right corner or at the bottom, you can choose the company you want to see the information about. There is a bar on the top of the screen. On the left it shows the name of the company, the price of its stock and how it has changed. On the right side of the bar you can choose two dates. The graph and news under the bar will be displayed according to those dates. There is a bar with different tech branches under the graph and news dashboard. On this bar you can choose the branch, and companies under the bar will be displayed according to the filter. There is a list of the companies at the bottom of the screen. Each block shows the name and current price of the stock of a particular company.

Menu

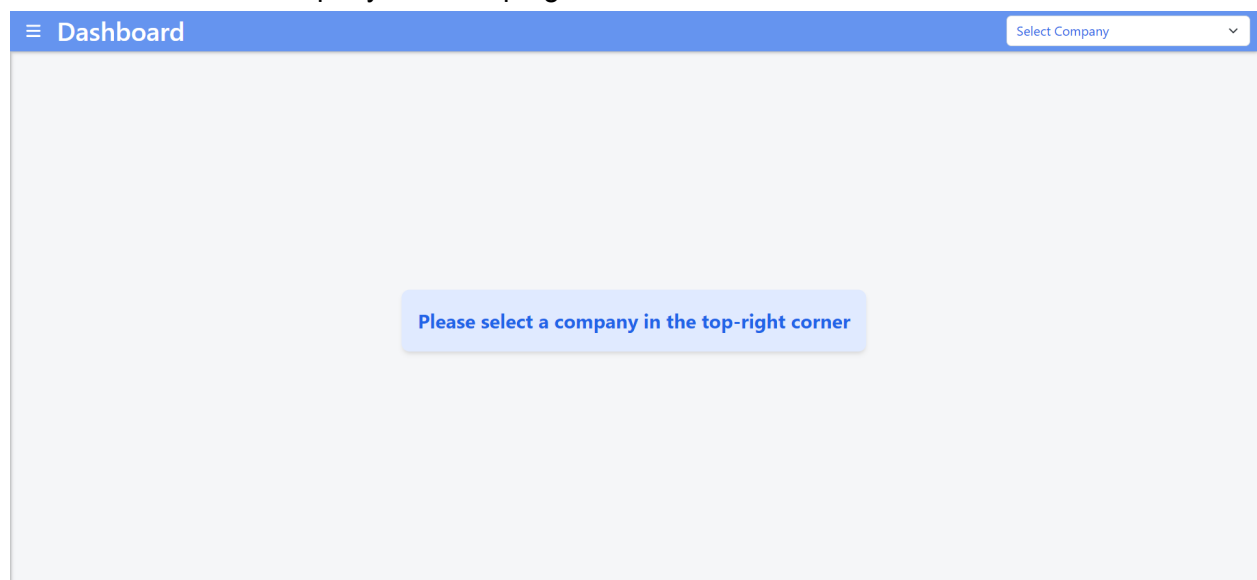

There is a menu of the website in the top left corner. If you click on it, you will see the following page.

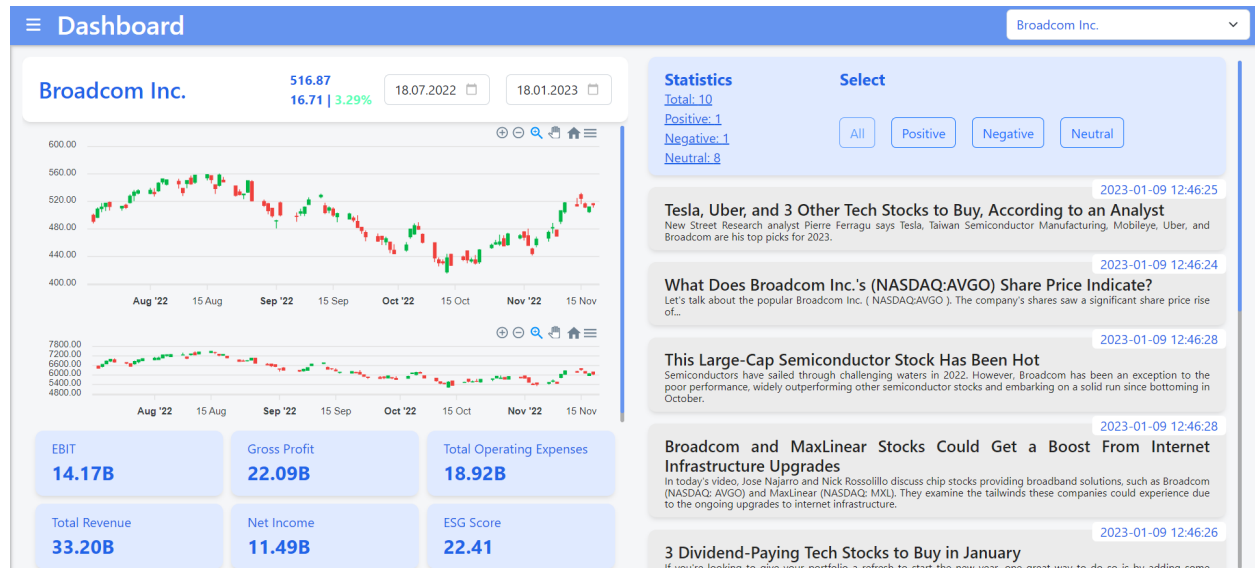

On this page you can choose between three sections: Homepage, Company news or Social media.

Company news

If you choose Company news section you will see this page. Here, to display the results, you have to choose the company on the top right corner.

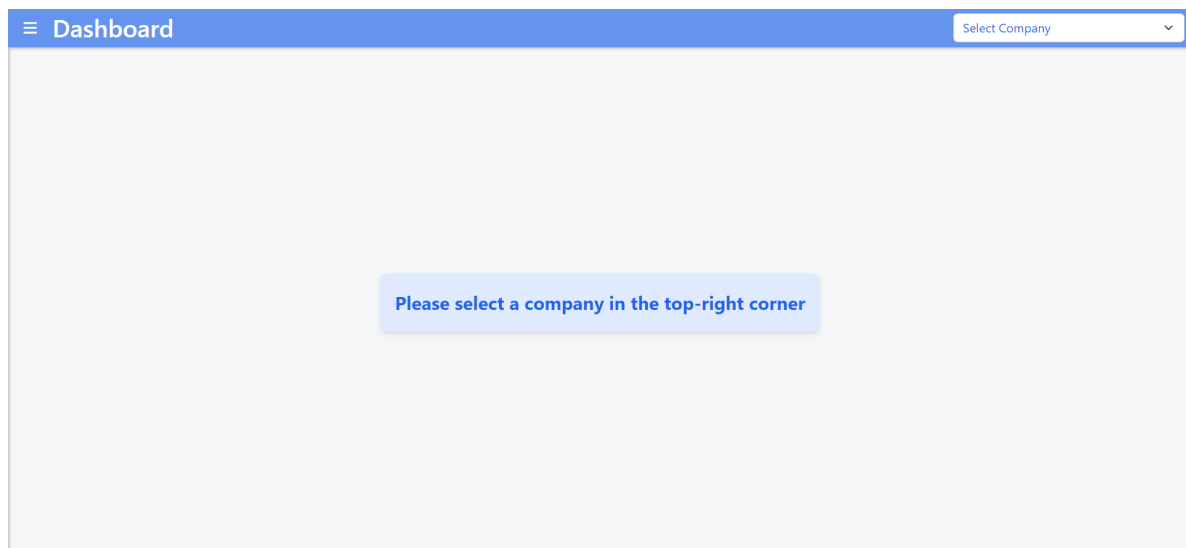

After the selection the following information will appear.

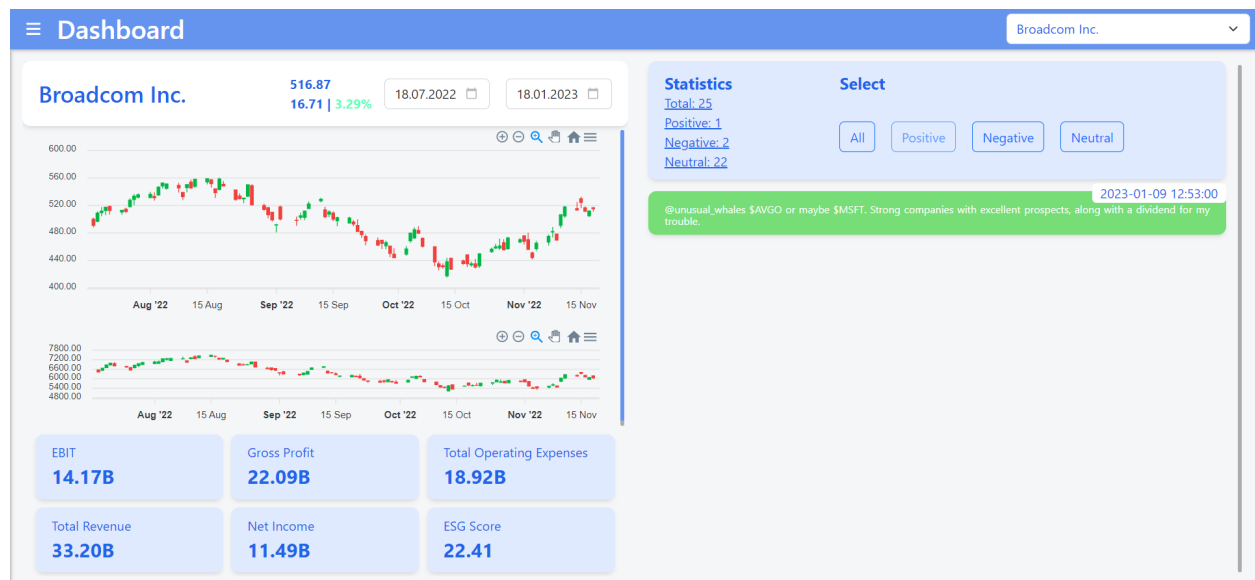

On this page you can see full statistics of the company. The bar on the left side shows the name, current stock price of the company and its changes during the chosen period. The period is chosen in the same bar. There is a graph for the chosen dates under the bar. Under the graphs you can see KPIs of the company. There is a section with company news on the right side of the screen. On the top block you can see the statistics of the news: the total number, the number of positive, negative and neutral news. Next to the statistics, you can choose which news should be displayed under this block. You can read about News selection here.

Social media

If you choose Social media section you will see this page. Here, to display the results, you have to choose the company on the top right corner.

After the selection the following information will appear.

On this page, as well as for company news, you can see full statistics of the company. The bar on the left side shows the name, current stock price of the company and its changes during the chosen period. The period is chosen in the same bar. There is a graph for the chosen dates under the bar. Under the graphs you can see KPIs of the company. There is a section with social media on the right side of the screen. These news are the news of the branch itself. On the top block you can see the statistics of the news: the total number, the number of positive, negative and neutral news. Next to the statistics, you can choose which news should be displayed under this block. You can read about News selection here.

News selection

Neutral news have gray color of the block, negative have red color and positive have green one.

That is how the selection of negative news look like:

Fall in tech stocks in 2022 helps fuel recovery for short sellers

Last year's big drop in the share price of Tesla, Amazon, Apple and Facebook owner Meta has helped deliver bumper profits for investors betting against US stock markets in a sharp reversal of their recent fortunes. Short sellers — investors who believe an asset is overvalued and its price will fall — lost about $572bn in US markets between 2019 and 2021, crushed by low
